

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Parents and Carers

Australian Business Week

Year 10 students have been busily learning about running a business in the Multi-purpose hall this week as part of Australian Business Week. The students will face a range of challenges designed to support them in developing thinking and problem-solving skills essential to succeeding in a business environment. Mrs Fuz and Mrs Hamilton are to be congratulated on planning such a rich learning opportunity for these students.

Peer Support Training

Last week Mrs Kettlewell conducted the first training sessions for next year's peer support lessons. The Year 9 students involved explored a range of concepts around leadership and tested their theories by running a short activity with visiting year 6 students. The students involved were extremely enthusiastic and agreed that it is often more difficult than they expected to get younger students to listen to and follow instructions.

Nowra High School Magazine

A reminder that we will be once again producing an annual Nowra High School Magazine. This will be the first edition to be published since 2016 and will feature photos and articles from all areas of the school throughout 2017, 2018 and 2019. It will henceforth continue to be published annually as traditionally has been done in the past. We anticipate publication in Week 8 of this term. As always constructive feedback is welcome and next year we will be seeking to utilise our family and community volunteer expertise to access support for this initiative.

Amnesty on old textbooks

We are aware that families all experience difficulty at different times. This can interfere with your ability to return textbooks to school on time. We would like to reduce any anxiety that you may have about this issue, and encourage you all to drop in any books. These are highly valuable to us at the school so we will have an amnesty until the end of November. There will be "amnesty boxes" placed in the front office and the school library. Please drop any old textbooks from any faculty into these boxes and we will thank you for them.

You can return your textbooks for free no questions asked.

Kind regards

Mr Rodney Loxley
Relieving Principal
